CAREER OBJECTIVE

As a dedicated and enthusiastic MERN stack developer, I bring a strong foundation in web development, with proficiency in MongoDB, Express.js, React, and Node.js. My academic background and personal projects have equipped me with hands-on experience in building responsive and user-friendly web applications. I am eager to contribute my technical skills, problem-solving abilities, and passion for learning to a dynamic development team, while continuously expanding my knowledge in the ever-evolving field of web development.
